Circular No. 61

Sawan Ashram,
December 28, 1967

Dear Khanna/Cowan,

I have observed that with the rapidly growing work of the Master, the load of correspondence has increased considerably. It is practically becoming difficult to handle the same during my short intervals between tours and the multifarious Satsang engagements. It would be much better if the dear ones are requested to restrict their letters to the minimum length and of a purely spiritual nature thereby avoiding detailed descriptions and to submitting them at three month intervals only, which will facilitate the work here. There are now several printed books* which contain exhaustive explanations for the day-to-day problems of an Initiate, and the dear ones can safely refer to them. The diary forms should, however, be continued and be sent every three months, with brief results, etc.

I know it for certain that every soul has certain personal problems which he/she is anxious to bring to the attention of the Master, so as to seek His blessings and guidance. You should please note that the life-span of each one of us has already been drawn by the Great Planner, and what actually we see and come by is nothing more than an unfoldment of the divine Plan, which if rightly adjudged is being executed with fine exactitude. But it should be taken as certain that all things work to the good of those who love God. And since you are directly linked with the God-into-Expression Power within, you are under His Grace and not the Law, to the minutest detail. So the severity, the intensity, and the duration of the trials and tribulations of life, whatever they be, are suitably and gracefully mitigated, softened and toned down by the Master Power. Just have more of deep faith in that Supreme Power within you, for undoubtedly It will come to your aid, guide you aright, and eventually take you out of the seemingly impossible situations, in a sublime manner such that you cannot possibly imagine it. So all such matters can reasonably be eliminated from your letters to me, making them concise and exact in their contents.

This message may kindly be circulated among all of the dear ones.

With all love and best wishes,

Yours affectionately,

(Kirpal Singh)
